To [Robert] Browning

[13 Via del Tritone, 3d p.(Rome)] The writer refers Browning to an essay he wrote entitled The Philosophy of the Rule of Faith. Stresses some of the arguments set forth in the essay. Claims to be trying to overcome the Protestant belief that the Catholic Church hampers freedom of thought. Complains of the poor quality of the essays appearing in the same volume with his own.

To Samuel Edmund Sewall

«Washington, D.C.» Presented petitions to abolish Slavery in the District of Columbia to the House of Representatives. No action was taken so J. D. moved "that they lie on the table." Says that it would be impossible to get the required number of signatures for presentation at this session. Will not be a candidate for Congress at the next election. There will be many Congressmen at the next session in the House who will work for the abolition of Slavery in the District.

Disposition for a Feu de Joie. Ch C 1.102

To Captain Cushing, Major of Brigade.

[Headquarters, Newburgh.] The exercise will commence with a review of the three brigades, after which they will reform for firing the feu de joie. This is to be followed by a prayer for the perpetual alliance of France and America. It is the General's desire to increase the discipline and order during this period in winter-quarters as well as keep up the morale of the troops. 1 p. 14 x 9 1/4 in., 1 p. 10 1/2 x 8 1/4 in.
